camel through this vast, sandy expanse.

3. Jaisalmer: Camel safari in Jaisalmer is one of the best activities to include in your Rajasthan tour packages. Jaisalmer is known for its white sand dunes, which makes the safari experience unique. During your safari, you can observe many species of animals while touring the desert-like Bharil, Thar Desert Fox, Bats and so on. You can also find beautiful birds here like the Great Indian Bustard, Larissa Strigillata, Indian Sparrow Hawk, and Grey Francolin.

4. Bikaner: Include Bikaner in your Rajasthan tour packages and visit this city around the beginning of January, as this is when the annual camel fair takes place. Here, you can see people dressed in colourful traditional attires and the popular camel races. December and January are good months to visit Bikaner for safari tours, as it can get very hot during other times of the year.

What to buy in Rajasthan?

Rajasthan is a paradise for those looking for souvenirs. Some of the most special things you buy from here include:

1) Authentic gemstones and jewellery from Jaipur

Your Rajasthan Package must include a visit to the famous Johari Bazaar in Jaipur, known to be a paradise for jewellery lovers. In this bazaar, you will not only find gold and silver jewellery but will also feel ecstatic finding hand-cut precious and semi-precious stones and gems such as Ruby, Garnets, Emerald, Amethyst, Topaz, etc. Try out some local variants such as kundans, carved trinkets or Meena work in necklaces, headgears, cuffs, anklets etc.

2) Special Lehariya sarees

Saree lovers will surely like to add a Rajasthani Lehariya saree to their collection.

The design pattern on these sarees has been inspired by the vast stretch of the desert landscape of Rajasthan. You can get the Lehariya saree in two patterns - either as Mothra showcasing a crisscross look or as Samudra leheriya resembling broad stripes. Choose from different fabric options such as Pure Silk, Cotton, Chiffon, Georgette etc.

3) Colourful Bandhani dupattas

Another item popular with the ladies of Rajasthan is a Bandhani dupatta. Bandhani, also known as tie and dye textile, is a type of work where designs are made of pieces of cloth by plucking cloth with fingernails to create tiny bindings that form a figurative design and then dipping them in the dye. The colourful dupattas of Rajasthan are sure to make you crave to purchase a few for yourself and a few as souvenirs for others.

4) Meenakari work items

Jaipur is the main hub of Meenakari work and you must look out for items with this work during your Rajasthan Tour. Meenakari work is an art of painting or embellishing various types of metals with vibrant colours and motifs of flowers, birds and leaves. It is made of coloured glass powders and can appear opaque, transparent or translucent. You can come across endless items with meenakari work such as jewellery, bells, key chains, trays, boxes etc.

5) Embroidered bed sheets

You must take back with you some embroidered bedsheets from Jaipur. These Bedsheets are those which are artistically hand-woven in vibrant colour and stylish designs. Upgrade the décor of your bedroom by decorating them in Rajasthani style using these bedsheets.

6) Jaipuri handcrafted handbags

The beautiful multi-coloured Jaipuri handcrafted handbags will surely catch your eye during your Rajasthan tour and tempt you to purchase one or two to add to your collection. These bags are well known for their aesthetic look, lightweight and fine finish. You can buy them in various shapes, sizes and hues, each having a distinct design portraying the Rajasthani lifestyle.

7) The famous Blue pottery

One of the famous things to purchase in Rajasthan is the blue pottery, available throughout the state. Purchase a few of them to liven the beauty of your home. The reason for the beauty of these potteries lies in the material used in crafting them. Unlike normal pots which are made of clay, these items are made with Multani mitti, sodium sulphate, quartz and raw glaze.

8) Mojiris

Mojiris are Rajasthani footwear which is also known as Jodhpuri Juttis. You will be delighted to own one of these colourful footwear with patterns in them adding a tinge of royalty. Made of pure leather, the Mojiris are available in different shapes such as Chota panja, gol-panja or Salem shahi.

9) Rajasthani snacks and desserts.

Your Rajasthan Tour will remain incomplete if you do not taste some of the famous desserts and snacks. Rajasthani snacks are mostly fried and fiery items such as Mirchi vada, pyaaz kachori, Kanji vada, Kalmi Vada etc. Rajasthani bhujia and mathri are also famous and must be tried once. Rajasthani desserts include sweets made of pure ghee, milk and sugar. A famous sweet of the state is Ghewar.

Which are the famous luxury train tour experiences in Rajasthan?

Rajasthan is the epitome of luxury in India and the best way to experience the luxury and beauty of the opulent state is by booking one of the few Luxury tours available. These tours are world renowned and are a one of a kind experience available only in Rajasthan. Some of these trains have been operational since the colonial era, hence you can also get a feel for British Royalty alongside Indian Royalty.
