Which are the major tourist attractions in Singapore?

Singapore showcases a perfect blend of Asian and European cultures. This is a city blasting to the creases with great attractions, exciting activities, and a lot of day trips for everyone. There are beaches in Singapore, rooftop-bars, safaris, shopping centers, luxury hotels, adventure sports, theme parks and everything else that you need for your dream holiday. Though the list of tourist attractions in Singapore is never-ending, a few of them have been mentioned here which are more popular:

- 1. Marina Bay: The picturesque Marina Bay Sands complex is the main attraction of the bay. There are other great spots around the bay such as the Science Museum, Casino, shopping centres, dining and nightlife options. A spectacular light show is hosted around 2000 hours, which blends with the water to form colourful, magnificent views. A great deal for photographs!
- 2. Clarke Quay: Clarke Quay is well known for its enthralling waterside eateries and exciting gathering of bars and clubs, but the region has a lot more to offer. Clarke Quay is filled with places of cultural and historical importance like Singapore River, Asian civilizations museum, statues of Sir Stamford Raffles, Fort Canning Park, Civil Defense Heritage Gallery and Hong San See Temple.
- 3. Universal Studios Singapore: Universal Studios Singapore is an amusement park situated inside Resorts World Sentosa on Sentosa Island, Singapore. The park has around 28 rides, shows, and attractions in seven themed zones. There are several night time activities including the magnificent Hollywood Dreams Light-Up Parade, live local bands, delicious food and thrilling rides under the midnight stars. Skip the line and get to Universal Studios Tickets
- 4. Gardens by the Bay: Gardens by the Bay is a large, beautiful, modern park in the bay area of Singapore. Among the main features are the Supertree

When is the best time to visit Singapore?

- The months between February to April when the island country has summers going on is a good season to be in Singapore.
- Similarly, the winters here are quite pleasant as well. Plenty of outdoor activities become available during these two seasons.
- Moreover, November to January is when the country has the wettest months and showers can last for long periods of time, so you may want to avoid this season unless you're fond of travelling in rains. The hottest months in Singapore usually are May and June.

Do I need a visa for Singapore? How does one get a Singapore visa?

Citizens of India can apply for a Singapore tourist visa that allows a stay for maximum period of 30 days with a validity of 2 years. As the rule applies for other countries, even for Singapore, you should ensure that your passport is valid for 6 months from the date of entry in Singapore.

The easiest way to apply for your visa is filling the form online. You have to pay the fees and your request is registered. You may also be provided with a pick and drop service. Some of the vital documents required for visa application procedure are air ticket, passport, bank statement of last three months, covering letter, visa application form and 2 passport size photographs.

What is the currency of Singapore and where can I get my money exchanged?

The currency of Singapore is Singapore Dollars. You can get your currency changed in any part of the country as and when required. As Singapore is a popular tourist destination, you find money changers in every part of the country easily. However, in case you're unable to find one in the area you're residing, you can always go to the airport or the banks. These money exchangers provide the service at slightly greater cost but are hassle free.

South-East Asian nations, the rooftop bar culture in Singapore is zooming in every day. Altitude is the highest rooftop bar present in the area while the lavish Ku Delta isn't too far and nothing less than its rival. Other notable mentions include the Level thirty-three which is the highest craft brewery in the world and the Kinki, a Sushi admirer's delight

5. Post shopping party at Orchard Road: Though Orchard Road is mainly known as a shopping center during the day, it converts itself into a party spot during the evenings. The area is filled with eateries, restaurants and pubs which serve their purpose of hosting the party animals. There are places like The Drunken Poet and Muddy Murphy's Irish Club which host special parties on the weekends.

6. Evening parties at the Sentosa Beach Bars: For those who are too eager to celebrate their moments and cannot wait till dark for the party beats to plug-in, Sentosa Island is the perfect deal. There are a number of beach clubs where you don't have to wait till evening and you can get into party-mode from mid-afternoon itself! Azzura Beach Club is one such spot that hosts beach parties like Smack My Beach Up and Full Steam Ahead.

7. A special evening at the Club Street- Chinatown: Chinatown is no longer in the saint club when it comes to nightlife in the Lion City. Recently, it has emerged as the city's best nightlife spot where a happy evening can be spent along with a quality dinner and some country music.

8. Local part spot, Holland village: This place is comparatively more visited by the locals and emigrants than the tourists. There are many fancy alfresco restaurants, and occasionally street parties are also hosted.

9. Out of the box, Geylang: Many have a perception that this area of Singapore is not for the innocent folks, but that's no reality. There are many restaurants and bars which run a plain party business and nothing else. Do look out for the gleaming neon signs and avoid visiting those buildings if you are there just for
